We are credibly informed that certain parties, claiming to be respectable grocers, whose names we withhold for the present, are selling a spurious article, made the same size and mixed with WING'S Crackers, selling them altogether for the Gendine WING'S FARINA CRACKERS.

If discovered, they assert that the imitation article got in by mistake, &c. Do homorable merchants act thus?

All are obliged to confide in their family grocer to a greater or less excest, and there are too many high-minded merobants engaged in the business to render it necessary for any respectable family to patronize persons guilty of such a fraud VING stamped on each cracker. These may be obtained of the most respectable grocers, by whom they a factoristic process, by whom they a factoristic process, and the control of the United States.

"TTALY MUST BE FREE! THE

NEW-YORK WEEKLY! FOR JULY 23, TO BE ISSUED ON JULY 9,

Will contain the first portion of an intensely thrilling Story, from the pen of A. J. H. DUGANNE, entitled GARIBALDI,

THE HERO OF ITALY,

the renowred JOSEPH GARIBALDI,

Whose brilliant achievements in the European struggle now going forward are the theme of universal remark. The history of the world does not show, perhaps, the record of more extraordinary man, taking him altogether, than he wh figures so conspicuously in Mr. Duganne's TRUTHFUL AND STIRRING NARRATIVE!

The writer of pure fiction would seek in vain in the realms of imagination for the counterpart of JOSEPH GARIBALDI, whose whole eventful life seems like a romance. And Mr. D. game is the writer, of all others, to weave the exciting events of the hero's life into the woof of an exciting parrative. He (Mr. D.) knew Garbaidi and his conferes in this country well and, by mixing freely with them, he became familiar with all their thoughts, their aspirations and their hopes. In the story under consideration, the author takes his hero up at that period of his when, a youth, brimfull of patriotic ardor, he joins the SECRET SOCIETY OF ITALIAN PATRIOTS.

ondemned to death, and, with A PRICE SET UPON HIS HEAD, is hunted from place to place, and at length escapes to Marseille. e. He traces him through his ADVENTURES IN SOUTH AMERICA,

THE ITALIAN LEGION, teaching his countrymen to fight, that they might one day strike

GROANING ITALY, up to the time when, having spent some years in this country, h urned to Pledmont, and there awaited, with burning anxiety, the events which brought about

THE PRESENT WAR. and enabled him to place himself at the head of his patriotic fol lowers to strike for ITALY AND LIBERTY. Nor does the author forget the hero's SELF-SACRIFICING, NOBLE, UNDAUNTED WIFE

DANGERS AND TRIALS, stuck closely at his side, binding up his wounds, encouraging him with words of hope and love, and comforting him always—she who, after following his fortunes with a strength and devotion which seemed almost superhuman, died, at last, before his eyes even while the cry of "THE AUSTRIANS ARE COMING! was ringing in his and her ears, and whose defenseless grave was afterward descenated by the worse than blood-thirsty monaters who gained possession of it after her pure soul had winged its flight to Heaven. Is it to be wondered at that

JOSEPH GARIBALDI HATES AUS. TRIA AND THE AUSTRIANS? While on this subject, here is a letter which we have received from the distinguished author of the story in question:

While on this subject, here is a letter which we have received from the distinguished author of the story in question:

LETTER FROM A. J. H. DUGANNE.

Wess 1971-8-7, June 23, 1859.

Messes. Street & Smith—In accepting your liberal offer I shall endeavor to do justice, by my pep, to the subject on which you request its employment. The leading incidents of Garibalter's career are embraced in his connection with the secret society of "Young Italy," his adventures in the Monte videan wars against the tyrant Rosas, his subsequent re care to Iraly as chief of the Republican movement in 1864, and his glorious defense of ROME in the last struggle. In all his perils, by see and land, Garibaltoli was strended by one whose name should ever he remembered with his own—the brave and beautiful Arketa—his kufe. The character of Garibaltoli is a noble as the episoce of his varied life have been strange. He is worthy to be the chief of a free people, for his aims are pure, his mind copable study conceptions, and his genius that of a practical statical and awall as skilloi soldier. It was my swood fortune to enjoy his acquaintance during his late sojournin this country, and I shall not forget the simple samest faith in Republicaniem which he expressed just previous to his departure, when, at a libile breakfast on board his brig. I had the happiness of pledging with him that earnest sentiment to which every American heart must respond—"The Regeneration of Italy."

I remain, genitement,

A. J. H. DUGANNE.
